NOW AVAILABLE FOR REVIEW

March 18, 2020 - Renata Kell announces the publication of her first collection of stories, WELCOME TO MY DELUSIONS. After a six- year hiatus while earning her degree from Full Sail University, Renata is proud to be back in the saddle again. Her collection includes a variety of mystery, suspense, and drama that encompass moral dilemmas, miscommunication and unexpected outcomes. Her latest e-book is available at Smashwords.com for $2.99.

In the first story "Fathers and Fools" Carla's pledge to her deceased father takes her on a journey that unveils a lifetime of unnecessary pain.

In, "Flying the Coop," cousins, Shayla and Kelsea devise a desperate plan to leave the family business. These two mischievous teenagers use all they have learned about the past to create a new future for themselves and their siblings.

In story number three, Vince's planning and preparation for the perfect robbery is complicated by an unexpected admiration for his hostages in "Whose Lucky Night."

Story number four takes us through the perils of two sisters, Tori and Abigail as they work together to cover up a family secret.

In the last story, "The River," Jade and her mother set out on a fear filled adventure to rescue her troubled sister, Sapphire, before it's too late.

Renata Kell is a self-published author of her autobiography POST TRAUMA: FACING MY PAIN AND EMBRACING CHANGE. This is her first release since she decided to go back to school and get her B.F.A in Creative Writing at Full Sail University. Since returning Renata has been featured in literary magazines, FICTION ON THE WEB and THE SCARLET LEAF REVIEW.
